Objective and Characteristics of the Fund

Objective of the Fund

The Fund seeks to achieve net asset volatility per unit of trust assets which closely correlates with the movement of the FTSE Nonyen World Government Bond Index (ex-Japan, no hedge, yen based) by investing mainly in all or a portion of separately stipulated investment trust securities.

*The FTSE WGBI is a bond index operated by FTSE Fixed Income LLC and calculated to be an index of the total return of government bonds of major countries weighted by the market capitalization of each respective market.

The FTSE WGBI (ex-Japan, no hedge, yen based) is an index representing the composite performance of government bond markets of major countries excluding Japan and calculated by converting local-currency based indices into yen without hedging.

$$\text{FTSE World Government Bond Index} = \frac{\text{Aggregate market value at the time of calculation}}{\text{Aggregate market value at base point in time}} \times 100$$

Characteristics of the Fund

- While the Fund is a contractual-type investment trust, it is structured differently from ordinary investment trusts with respect to the following points:

Units are listed on Tokyo Stock Exchange and can be traded at any time during trading hours.

- Units may be traded in blocks of 10 units (as of the date when the securities registration statement was filed).
- Brokers determine trading commissions.
- The method of trading is generally the same as that for stocks.
- * Please contact your broker for further information.

This Fund of Funds invests in securities held for investment trust.

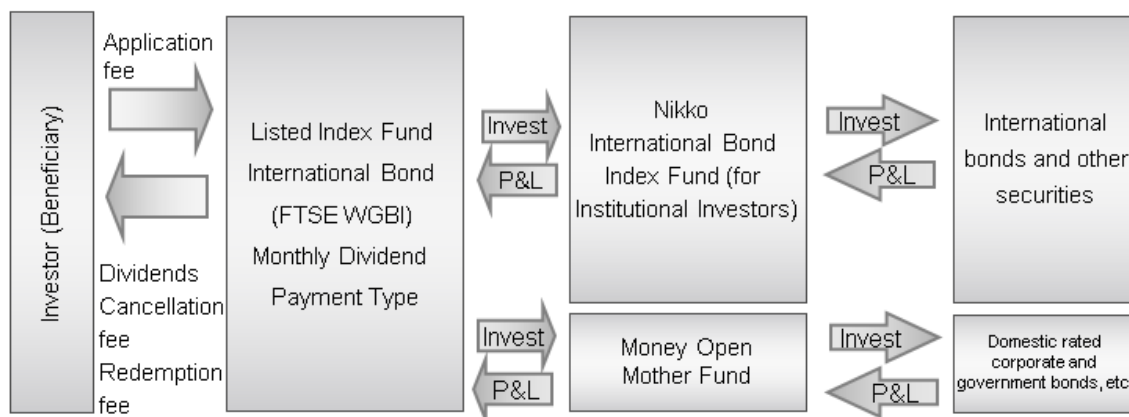

Nikko International Bond Index Fund (for Institutional Investors)

The fund seeks to achieve investment results that correlate to the movement of the FTSE Nonyen World Government Bond Index by investing mainly in global government bonds.

Money Open Mother Fund

This fund seeks to achieve stable returns through stable management by investing in public and corporate bonds.

Fund Structure

Investment Restrictions

- This fund will not invest in any portfolio, stocks and bonds other than securities held for investment trust, short-term corporate bonds, commercial paper and designated money in trust.
- There is no restriction on the investment ratio for assets denominated in foreign currencies.

Distribution Policy

- As a general rule, the full amount of dividends and other income arising from the trust assets is distributed after deduction of expenses.

*There is no guarantee on the payment or the amount of dividend.

Investment Risks

The major risks associated with investment in the Fund are outlined below. Investors should ensure they carefully examine and understand fully these risks before deciding to subscribe to units of the Fund.

Factors that contribute to NAV volatility

Investors are not guaranteed the investment principal that they commit. Investors may incur a loss and the value of their investment principal may fall below par as the result of a decline in NAV. All profits and losses arising from investments in the Fund belong to the investors (beneficiaries). This fund is different from saving deposit.

The Fund invests primarily in bonds. The NAV of the Fund may fall and you may suffer a loss for reasons such as a drop in the price of bonds or deterioration in the financial conditions and business performance of an issuer of stocks.

Major risks are as follows:

Price Fluctuation Risk

- Corporate and government bonds generally have a price fluctuation risk arising from changes in interest rates. Generally, their prices go down when interest rates rise, causing the NAV of the funds to fall. The degree of price fluctuation varies depending on the remaining time to maturity and the terms of issue in question.

Liquidity Risk

- Where the market size or trading volume is small, buying and selling prices for securities may be largely affected. This results in the risk that securities cannot be traded at the expected prices, sold at the appraised prices, or that trading volume is limited regardless of prices. This creates the risk of unexpected losses.

Credit Risk

- If a default has occurred or is expected to occur, for issuers of public and corporate bonds or short-term financial assets, the prices of such public and corporate bonds or short-term financial assets decline (the value could even fall to zero). This results in a decline of the Fund's NAV. In addition, if default in fact occurs, there is a high possibility of being unable to collect investment funds.

Currency Fluctuation Risk

- For foreign-currency-denominated assets, in general, if the yen is stronger than the currencies of such assets, the Fund's NAV will decline.

Security-lending Risk

- Lending of securities is accompanied by counterparty risks, which are the risks of default or cancellation of lending agreements as result of bankruptcy, etc., by the counterparties. As a result, there is a risk that the Fund will suffer unanticipated unexpected losses. Following the default or cancellation of a lending agreement, when liquidation procedures are implemented by using the collateral that is set aside in the lending agreement, the procurement cost of buying back the securities can surpass the collateral value, due to price fluctuations in the market.

See also the previous page for details of investment risks.

Risk of Discrepancies in FTSE World Government Bond Index (ex Japan, no hedge, yen based) and NAV

This Fund seeks to ensure that its NAV has the same volatility as the FTSE World Government Bond Index (ex Japan, no hedge, yen based); however, we cannot always guarantee that the Fund will have the same volatility as the Index due to the following factors attributable to this Fund and to the investment trust securities invested in by this Fund:

- Lag in the timing of fund inflows and to the purchase of investment trust securities;
- Where the portfolio is adjusted through investment in issues other than the constituent issues of the FTSE World Government Bond Index (ex-Japan, no hedge, yen based) or through changes in the constituent issues or weighting of the FTSE World Government Bond Index (ex-Japan, no hedge, yen based), the trading of individual issues may be affected by market impact or the Fund may bear costs such as management fees, brokerage fees and auditing fees.
- Securities lending fees from lending securities.
- When derivative transactions such as futures are conducted, discrepancies in price movements between such transactions and part or all of the constituent issues of the FTSE WGBI.

Discrepancies between the market prices at which bonds are traded on the exchange and the NAV This Fund is listed on and will be publicly traded on the Tokyo Stock Exchange; however, the market price of the units will depend mainly on the demand for the Fund, its investment performance, and how attractive it is to investors in comparison to alternative investments, etc. We cannot predict whether this fund will be traded at a market value below or above its NAV.

* The prices of securities targeted for investment of this Fund will fluctuate due to the effects of the aforementioned risks. Therefore, please note that this Fund itself has these risks as well.

* The factors that contribute to fluctuations in the NAV are not limited to those listed above.

Additional Considerations

- The provisions stipulated in Article 37-6 of the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act (the “cooling-off period”) is not applicable to Fund transactions.
- This Fund differs from deposits or insurance policies in that it is not protected by the Deposit Insurance Corporation of Japan or the Policyholders Protection Corporation of Japan. Furthermore, units purchased from registered financial institutions, such as banks, are exempted from compensation by the Japan Investor Protection Fund.

Risk Management System

- The evaluation and analysis of risks and performance, risk management, and monitoring of the status of compliance with laws are performed by the departments in charge of risk management and compliance, which is independent from fund management departments.
- To maintain an appropriate management system, the departments in charge of risk management and compliance report and make proposals to the committee associated with risk management and compliance, and instruct fund management departments to take corrective actions as necessary.

* The system described above is as of the end of July 2020, and may be subject to change in the future.

Tax Treatment

Tax treatment for individual investors

1) Taxation upon sale of Units

- Gains on sale (capital gains) are deemed to be income from transfer and thus have to be filed to declare for separate taxation at 20.315%. When a beneficiary has chosen a designated account with tax withholding (an account with tax withholding at the taxpayer's option), tax will be withheld at source at 20.315%. (As a general rule, tax filing is not necessary.)

2) Taxation upon receipt of income distributions

- Income distributions are regarded as dividend income, and tax is withheld at source at 20.315%. (As a general rule, tax filing is not necessary.) You can also file a tax return, and choose either separated taxation, based on declaration, or consolidated taxation (under which the dividends received deduction is available)

3) Taxation upon cancellation or termination

- Gains upon cancellation or termination (capital gains) are deemed to be income from transfer and thus have to be filed to declare for separate taxation at 20.315%. When a beneficiary has chosen a designated account with tax withholding (an account with tax withholding at the taxpayer's option), tax will be withheld at source at 20.315%. (As a general rule, tax filing is not necessary.)
- By filing a tax return, you can offset losses upon sale (capital losses) against capital gains from listed stocks, dividends etc. from listed stocks, and interest income from public and corporate bonds and such like (as long as separated taxation has been chosen upon declaration). In addition, gains on sale (capital gains), income distributions, and interest income from public and corporate bonds etc. (if separated taxation has been chosen upon declaration) can be offset against capital losses from listed stocks and such like.
- When investing through a Nippon Individual Savings Account (NISA), income gains and capital gains from the investments in Publicly-offered Equity Investment Trusts will be tax-free for five years if the investments have been newly purchased within 1.2 million yen per year. Investors need to meet certain conditions, such as aged 20 or above, having opened a tax-free account at a Distributor. In addition, when investing through a Junior NISA, income gains and capital gains from the investments in Publicly-offered Equity Investment Trusts will be tax-free for the next five years for those under 20 years old as long as the newly purchased investment amount is less than 0.8 million yen every year. For further details, please contact a Distributor.
- In cases of being applied to the foreign tax deduction, tax on distributions may differ from the aforementioned descriptions.
- The aforementioned descriptions do not apply to Japanese corporations.
- Above tax rates are as of October 9, 2020, so those may change in the event that tax laws are revised. We recommend that investors consult a tax or similar specialist for details of tax treatment.
